

Two big changes to class registration in October

(1) Virtual classes are moving to preregistrations with Mindbody. For more information, see the details below.

(2) We will be implementing a late cancel and no-show fee for in person classes.

Changes are going into effect Saturday, October 3rd.

Virtual Class Registration Details

This past Sunday, Zoom implemented some changes that are not sustainable for us to manage manually, so we're having to change how you register and get into virtual classes.

Starting October 3rd, all online dancers will have to pre-register on Mindbody for virtual classes. If you have never logged into Mindbody, check out the instructions below.

We recommend doing this before the next class you want to take to be sure things run smoothly!

Registration closes 1 hour before the class start time.

To everyone who has been consistently supporting us with donations, thank you! We would not be here without you. With this change, this also means that we'll be moving to a sliding scale for virtual classes through Mindbody rather than asking for donations through Venmo and Paypal. If you want to pre-pay with Venmo or a check, shoot us an email ahead so we can apply it to your account.

In Person Class Registration Fees

Now that classes are beginning to fill up with people on waitlists pretty regularly, we're having to implement a late cancel and no-show fee. When people cancel last minute or don't show up for classes, we don't have enough time to let other people in.

Here's how the fees will work:

Members

A late cancel (less than 24 hrs in advance) will be charged $10
A no-show will be charged a fee equal to the price of a drop in: $20

Non-Members

If you late cancel or no-show, you will not be charged extra, but you will not receive a refund or a credit to your account.

Thank you so much for understanding! And of course, thank you to everyone who has continued to support us emotionally and financially through all of this. We love you and appreciate you so much!!!
